

Hi Kevin

Tonight I was lucky enough to attend the concert "Petrushka" which was an amazing combination of piano and percussion pieces.

Looking around the audience it was clear just how many familiar faces were there, Friends of the Academy.

I really hope that the members of the Friends enjoyed the concert as much as I did. It was a truly enchanting concert, and I just wanted to say how wonderful it is to see so many of the Friends patronise our classical music performances.
